

Modification Information

Modifications

We understand that families' resources may be strapped due to COVID-19. Parties are always able to request a review of their income to evaluate whether an adjustment of their order is warranted. However, the CSEA typically provides this service every 36 months. If your order is newer than 36 months, you may qualify for a review sooner if you meet certain requirements.

Note that a temporary adjustment only exists for deployed military members experiencing a change in income. The CSEA review and adjustment will take into consideration both parties' income and adjustments for an entire year and recommend a modified order, if warranted.
